The Finest Royal Vintage

Something from the history books

Ninimomo creates two fabulous frocks from the archives of the fantastic and fashion-forward English designer, Vivienne Westwood. Westwood frequently uses iconic symbols of English and Celtic style, from crowns and plaids, to kilts and Ghillies (the classic lace up shoe worn with kilts). On the left, a mad plaid suit from her Grand Hotel collection ('93/94) and (right) her royal robes from the Harris Tweed collection ('87/88). For more on the whimsical creations of Ninimomo, log onto www.ninimomo.com. For more on VINTAGE styles, be sure to pick up our VINTAGE issue (Autumn 2009) shipping July 20th.
